Amount Requested: $30,000

This Woodstock Film Festival's educational program is comprised of an intensive workshop, coupled with youth screenings, seminars & a career day, designed to inspire, educate and introduce new creative outlets to area youth, particularly those that are at-risk. Working with the Center for Creative Education, Kingston NY, this workshop is designed to give underserved youth the opportunity to learn and participate in the cathartic, creative and professional possibilities of filmmaking. Teachers & guest instructors will provide the necessary tools to open a creative outlet for expression, understanding and professional growth. Participants will learn film and other media through this intensive classroom program, youth film screenings and Career Day.
