

Amount Requested: $240,000

"New Doorways to Nature" is a new program of Ashokan Center, Inc. designed to connect underserved children - too often "left behind" and "left inside" - to the environment and each other, with experiential learning and crucial lessons they may not otherwise receive: on ecology, living history, sustainability, and most important, their role as good citizens and future stewards of our planet.